

What is Tae Kwon Do?

Literally translated, the Korean word tae, means to kick or squash with the foot, kwon implies a hand or fist to block, punch, strike or destroy. Do denotes an art or a way ... thus Tae Kwon Do means the art of kicking, blocking and punching.

It is a non-violent system practiced in over 160 countries that consists of much more than just fighting techniques. In Tae Kwon Do we learn to respect life through mental, physical and philosophical studies. Tae Kwon Do is now recognized as a full medal sport in the Olympics.

Aspects of Tae Kwon Do

Mental: Self Confidence, Strong Character, Good Judgment, Self Control and Sound Mind.

Physical: Good Coordination, Strong Body, Self Defense, Strong Muscle Tone, Strength, Flexibility and an Agile Body.

Philosophical: Respect for each other, Helping each other, Honesty and Standing by the weak.

Class Descriptions

Little Dragons – Little Dragons classes are for children ages 3 to 5 years old. The classes are 30 minutes in length and concentrate on developing a child's focus and character.

Beginners – Beginner classes are designed to give new Tae Kwon Do students a solid foundation. For people who are new to Tae Kwon Do, the beginner classes gives them the confidence to develop their minds as well as their bodies.

Intermediates – Once a student has passed the beginners stage, they move to the intermediate level. Here we still concentrate on character development, but start to focus more on advanced techniques.

Advanced – Advanced students begin to get into the more difficult techniques that Tae Kwon Do has to offer. It takes a student approximately 2 1/2 years to reach this level. Because the next step is Black Belt, the training
